CURE FOR ALL!
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT
CITIZENS OF THE UNION—
You have done me the honor as with one voice, from one end of the Union to the other, to stamp the character of my Ointment with your approbation. It is scarcely two years since I made it known among you, and already it has obtained more celebrity than any other Medicine in so short a period. THOMAS HOLLOWAY,

ASTONISHING CURE OF SORE LEGS, AFTER NINE YEARS STANDING.
Copy of a Letter from Mr. W. J. Langley, of Huntsville, Yadkin Co., North Carolina, U. S., dated Nov. 1, 1853.
READ HIS OWN WORDS
To Professor HOLLOWAY—
SIR: It is not my wish to become notorious, neither is this letter written for the mere sake of writing, but to say, that your Ointment cured me of one of the most dreadful cutaneous diseases that flesh is heir to, and which was considered by all who knew me, to be entirely beyond the reach of medicine. For nine years I was afflicted with one of the most painful and troublesome sore legs that ever fell to the lot of man; and after trying every medicine I had ever heard of, I resigned in despair all hope of being cured; but a friend brought me a couple of large pots of your Ointment, which caused the sores on my legs to heal, and I entirely regained my health, to my agreeable surprise and delight, and to the astonishment of my friends. (Signed) W. J. LANGLEY.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF A BAD BREAST WHEN NEARLY AT THE POINT OF DEATH
Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. Durant, dated New Orleans Nov. 9, 1853.
To Prof. HOLLOWAY, 38, cor. Ann and Nassau Sts., N. Y.
Dear Sir: It is with heartfelt gratitude I have to inform you, that by the use of your Ointment and Pills, the life of my wife has been saved. For seven years she had a bad breast, with ten running wounds, (not of a cancerous nature). I was told that nothing could save her; she was then induced to use your Ointment and Pills, when, in the short space of three months, they effected a perfect cure, to the astonishment of all who knew us. We obtained your medicines from Messrs. Wright & Co., of Chartres street, New Orleans. I send this from "Hotel des Princes," Paris, although I had written it at New Orleans, before we finally left, at that time not knowing your address at New York. (Signed) R. DURANT.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:

Bad Legs,	Fistulas,	Scalds,
Bad Breasts,	Gout,	Sore Nipples,
Burns,	Glandular Swellings,	Sore Throat,
Bunions,		Skin diseases
Chilblains,	Lumbago,	Scurvy,
Chapped hands,	Piles,	Sore heads,

MILWAUKEE:

TUESDAY::::::::::::::::::DECEMBER 19.

United States Senator.

The Madison Journal has an article with the above caption, conceived in the right spirit. It gives a list of ten names spoken of in connection with this office.—"all superior men—possessing talents of a high order," and says there "may be other names that will come before the Legislature, presenting equal claims for support." It also says:

"That our party has a majority on joint ballot, is generally conceded; but it is so small that there must be great harmony of action in order to make it effective. Consequently each member may be called upon to yield a little of personal preference, to secure this united action. We consider it no obstacle to harmony, that each location should present a man for the high office of U. S. Senator, if this presentation is made in the proper spirit; and that it will be we have no doubt So far as we can discover, the members elect of the Republican party are actuated with the same desire, and that nothing will disturb the harmony of their action. We indicate no personal preference among the names we have presented. They are all men for whom we entertain high respect, and we should hail the election of either of them to the U. S. Senate, as an indication of a "better time coming."

The temper of the Republican press on this question, is such as to indicate harmony of action in the party, and we trust that nothing will arise to disturb that harmony. When the public sentiment points strongly to one man, so that he is evidently and unmistakably the choice of the people for Senator, it is perfectly proper for the press to express such preference.—But when there is no concentration of opinion on any individual—as there clearly is not, at present—for any paper to champion the claims of any one, in a partizan spirit, would only tend to his defeat and the distraction of the party.—Thus far, we have seen nothing of the kind, and all have moved forward in harmony.

AMOUNT OF SPECIE IN THE COUNTRY.—The Philadelphia Bulletin has the following:

"The total deposits of gold and silver at the mint during the month of November amounted to $1,235,250. The amount coined $917,293. The total deposits for eleven months this year, compared with the two preceding years, is as follows: 1852 $47,729,205; 1853 $48,023,557. The decline in the receipts at the Philadelphia mint is chiefly to be attributed to the operations of the San Francisco Branch Mint and the New-York Assay Office."

From official and other sources, the Bulletin estimates the net foreign export of specie from 1847 (the year that California began to supply gold) to Dec. 1st, 1854, at $113,398,081. The total home productions of gold, as reported at the different mints during that period, is given as $252,515,929. These figures which the Bulletin says cannot be more than a million or two out of the way, leave an excess of specie in the country of one hundred and thirty-nine millions, one hundred and twenty-five thousand, nine hundred and forty-eight dollars.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.—A large public meeting was held at Montrose, Pa., on the 27 ult., at which resolutions were adopted proposing the formation of a 'Republican Party' on the ruins of the old parties, and based upon opposition to slavery extension and the fugitive slave law. Judges Jessup and Wilmot, the former the most influential Whig of that section, and the latter the most influential Democrat, were present and delivered speeches advocating the resolutions.

BOOTS AND SHOES MADE BY MACHINERY.—A foreign correspondent of the Boston Traveller says a patent has been taken out in England for making boots and shoes by machinery So favorable are the prospects, that a public company has advanced $25,000 to erect the necessary machinery, by the river side, at Pimlico, and the worth of the invention has been estimated at millions of money. It will undersell and ruin the vast quantities of very indifferent articles now produced, chiefly from Northamptonshire, and it is stated that it will furnish 17,000 pair per diem of stoutly finished boots or shoes.

INDEPENDENT POLITICIANS.—The man who holds an opinion of his own, and who boasts to have never differed from his party in any act or thought of his life, is more apt to be a demagogue than a statesman! True consistency lies in fidelity to one's convictions of duty, however changing; and he is the safe politician who boldly avows and bravely adheres to those convictions under all circumstance. Honesty, fidelity, capacity—the Jeffersonian tests—these, at last, are the true qualifications for office. Consistency, in the vulgar acceptation, belongs oftener to the demagogue and ignoramus than to the honest politician and the capable statesman. Those high personal qualities which make us love admire, and trust in men, belong oftener to the rash, impulsive, and brave, than to the cautious, calculating, and "consistent."—Richmond (Va.) Examiner.

DOUGLAS JEROLD'S WIT.—A London correspondent of the New-York Tribune, writes:

"Is Mr. Herand known at all to you? He is the author of 'The Descent into Hell.' apropos of which he was once annoying Douglas Jerold with importunate questions at an unwelcome time. Among others, he queried.

'By the by Mr. Jerold, did you ever read my Descent into Hell?'

'No, sir,' replied the infuriated dramatist, 'but I should like to see it.'

'Douglas dear,' said his wife, appealing to him in a small feminine dispute, 'do you think I am generally bad-temper?'

'No, my dear,' says he, 'I think you are particularly so.'"

A WHITE FUGITIVE.—Among the fugitives from Slavery who passed through this city on their way to Canada, on Monday, was a young woman, nearly white, who is said to possess great personal charms, good education, and lady-like manners. She is reported to be a natural daughter of Pierre Chouteau, son of the founder of the city of St. Louis, and was about to be sold for the vilest purposes, when she showed her courage. She was married at Chicago, a few days ago, to a young white man, also from St. Louis.—Detroit Inq.

[illegible]—A correspondent of the Horicon Argus suggests Judge Bean, of Beaver Dam, as a suitable man for Speaker of the next Assembly.

New York City Tract Society.

The Twenty-Eighth Anniversary of the N. Y. Tract Society was celebrated in that city on the evening of the 13th inst.

The summary of results reported in the past year is as follows: 28 Missionaries, with, on an average, 1,104 visitors, distributed 1,359,403 Tracts, in various languages, containing 5,709,333 pages; supplied the necessitous, on behalf of the New York Bible Society, with 1,067 Bibles and 1,233 Testaments: lent from Ward Libraries 6,481 volumes; gathered 1,985 children into Sabbath, and 342 into Public Schools, and 202 persons into Bible Classes; induced 1,570 persons to attend church; obtained 449 Temperance Pledges: held 1,254 District Prayer Meetings; 45 backsliders have been reclaimed; 134 persons hopefully converted; and 165 converts united with Evangelical Churches. But in the 20 years that such results have been recorded, the total numbers reported, have been as follows. 19,326,556 Tracts distributed; 25,539 Bibles and 30,769 Testaments supplied; 88,726 volumes lent; 45,487 children gathered into Sabbath, and 7,327 into Public Schools, and 3,961 persons into Bible Classes: 35,269 persons induced to attend church; 23,720 Temperance Pledges obtained; 31,698 District Prayer Meetings held; 693 backsliders reclaimed; 5,052 persons hopefully converted; and 3,375 converts united with Evangelical Churches.

The receipts of the Society during the past year have been $17,777 04; expenditures $17,722.18

Sandwich Islands.

The Sandwich Islands that are inhabited are eight in number, with an aggregate area of 6,000 square miles, being about one-fifth that of the Island of Cuba. Of these 6,000 square miles, only a small portion is arable land.—Honolulu, the leading port, possesses the only safe harbor at present; but there are harbors in the other islands, that could be made available for shipping, with some artificial means.

The value of foreign imports for the year 1853. was $1,251,951; value of foreign goods re-exported, $191 397; value of domestic exports, $261,599; revenue, $326 620; disbursements, $265, 795.

The exports consists of sugar, syrup, molasses, gulls, coffee, salt, wool, cocoa nuts and provisions.

The climate is represented as being remarkably uniform and salubrious. The average temperature of the eastern sides, is seventy two degrees; in winter, the thermometer rarely goes below sixty degrees.

The soil and climate of the Sandwich Islands are well adapted to the cultivation of wheat, cotton, tobacco, coffee, indigo, silk, arrow root, and potatoes. Sugar is becoming one of the leading products of the islands. The average yield per acre is two thousand pounds, and the ordinary value five cents per pound. In seven of the islands there were 1,650 acres under sugar cultivation in 1852, and these had increased to 2,750 in 1853. It has been calculated that 25,000 acres may easily be brought under sugar cultivation in each of the four principal islands, and that every acre may be made to yield 3,000 pounds annually. Such a crop, at five cents per pound, would yield $15,000,000.

BABY SHOW IN GEORGIA.—Among the attractions of the Southern Agricultural Fair, held at Augusta, Georgia, on the 7th inst., was a baby show. The result is thus announced in the Augusta Constitutionalist:

The last scene in the baby show line came off yesterday, and much anxiety was manifested by the crowd to see the fortunate little ones. We understand that there were some 7 entries; more premiums would have been awarded had the conditions of the society been complied with, requiring them to be dressed in homespun. Premiums were awarded to three, in the following order.

1st. The daughter of Mr. Jackson Turpin, aged 2 years, a silver pitcher worth $50.

2nd. A fine looking boy of Mrs. G. McLaughlin, eighteen months old, silver pitcher, worth $25.

3d. A fat, ruby and handsome boy of Mrs. D. B. Plumb, ten months old, a silver goblet worth $10.

Acorn and Chicory Coffee.

There is in Berlin, Prussia, according to a correspondent of the United States Gazette, a large establishment for the manufacture of coffee from acorns and chicory, the article being made separately from each. The chicory is mixed with an equal weight of turnips to render it sweeter. The acorn coffee, which is made from roasted and ground acorns, is sold in large quantities, and frequently with rather a medicinal than an economical view, as it is thought to have a wholesome effect upon the blood particularly of scrofulous persons. Acorn coffee is, however, made and used in many parts of Germany for the sole purpose of adulterating genuine coffee, and has been imported into the United States for the same use, so that, no doubt, many persons who would shrink from drinking acorn coffee have actually drunk it under another name. If it be medicinal in its nature, as is said, the use of it ought to be encouraged. And at any rate, as it is healthy in its nature, and can be made very cheaply from the super-abundance of acorns in our forests, it seems to recommend itself under certain circumstances as a substitute for coffee, the price of which would thereby be much reduced.—Hunt's Merchant's Magazine.

FRIED APPLES.—Who does not like fried apples? We all like apples in a raw state, or when they are baked or stewed; and it cannot be denied that they furnish one of the most wholesome and agreeable kinds of diet. Although apples raw, stewed or baked may be pronounced excellent and delicious, still there are many kinds, when fried, which are super-excellent: and they who seldom meet with a dish of fried apples, often wonder why they are not always fried instead of baked. When apples are baked they often burst open, and much of the best part of them flows out as juice, and is lost. But when they are fried the whole is saved and "it is a dainty dish." In those regions, where potatoes are few and poor, on account of the rot, fried apples are an excellent substitute. A dish of fried apples is quickly prepared for the table, which is often a consideration of no small importance. Wash them—cut them in two—take out the stem, core, and calyx, and unpealed, put them into a tin pan with butter, or the gravy of baked pork, with some water, in proportion to the quantity to be fried—cover them with a lid—set them on the stove—stir them occasionally until they become soft—and be careful not to burn them. Romanites, which are often almost worthless, baked or raw, "disappear with good gusto when fried." We may truthfully pronounce despicable Pealos, when fried, good: but the Porters, Belleflowers, Tallman sweets, and a long list which we might name, when fried, are really a luxury. Sour apples do not fry well—they fry to pieces too much.—Cor. Country Gent.

GAS WORKS FOR MADISON.—We learn that an experienced operator in Gas Works has made a proposition to light Madison with Gas. The cost, allowing for two miles of main pipe, is estimated at $30,000, upon which the profits could hardly be less than 15 or 20 per cent. The gentleman referred to, proposes to take $15,000, or one half, of the stock, if our citizens will take the other half. A charter will be asked for from the coming Legislature.—Madison Argus.

WHEREIN did Barnum prove himself a humbug? By selling his "Life" so dearly as [illegible]

NECK OR NOTHING.

Lord H——, an English nobleman, ruined by the extravagances of London fashion, had counted on a handsome inheritance to pay off his debts and enable him to pass the remainder of his days in wisdom and quiet. But the expected inheritance came not—and the young lord, rendered desperate by his disappointment, and finding himself doomed to the most precarious condition, deprived of all hope of fortune, resolved to get rid of a future full of misery by blowing out his brains.

The loaded pistol was in his hand, when most unaccountably, Lord H—— suddenly remembered that the Epson races were soon to come off. Too superstitious to believe that chance had inspired him with such a thought in such a moment, without a motive, he dropt his pistol and began calculating his chances of regaining his fortune in the approaching contest. His critical situation was not known, his credit in the sporting clubs was unlimited, and he availed himself of it by unscrupulously engaging in very heavy bets with some of the amateur sportsmen. If fortune favored him, all would go well, but if he lost, he could then execute his project and make use of the pistol. It was a last resort—but Lord H—— in his peculiar way of thinking, thought his faults would be effaced by the expiation, and that the fashionable world would pardon his weakness and errors if he should compensate them by a voluntary death.

He therefore deposited the pistol in its case and went to the club to engage the heaviest possible bets on three or four of the horses most reliable in his opinion It was far more than fortune, it was his life, which these rapid coursers were to bear.

The sum total of his bets amounted to 50,000 pounds sterling. He presented himself with a calm and firm face on the race course. Not a cloud obscured the serenity of his features. No one in beholding him, could have suspected the serious position in which he was placed. He appeared like a wealthy gentleman. who only risked a portion of his surplus, and could easily drown any loss in a glass of champagne His courage was rewarded. His winnings allowed him to live.

He had won more than money—for wisdom came to him out of his dreadful struggle A short time afterwards he married a fortune and he became scrupulous as to his winnings at Epson. He thought his money wrongfully got. Assembling all who had been his adversaries in betting on the races, he said to them:—"I have only just discovered, by my examination of my accounts, that the state of my affairs did not permit me to back the bets we once made together. If fortune had been unfavorable, I should not have been in a situation to pay my losses. These bets are then, in fact, null, and delicacy obliges me to return you the money."

Some hesitated to accept; but Lord H—— insisted so resolutely they were compelled to yield, and the fifty thousand pounds were rightly distributed.

This magnanimous conduct produced a lively sensation and honors the annals of British sport. Lord H——, lately deceased, has left an illustrious name, a revered memory and an example which gentlemen riders will always cite with admiration.—Courier de Etats Unis.

MANNERS OF AMERICAN LADIES—Bonaparte at Baltimore.—If the morals are not loose, the manners of our women are certainly easy.—There is no country in the world where such unrestrained intercourse between the sexes before marriage is allowed, as in the United States—an inalienable republican right, which the women never surrender. There is an innocent freedom from suspicion on the part of parents, and a rollicking enjoyment of the license they possess on the part of the daughters, which are are as charming to the lovers of nature as they are convenient to the inexperienced in art.—This freedom began early in this country, dating back to the patriarchal times of our settlement, and was consonant with, as it was secured by the simplicity of the life of our ancestors. Debauched Europe could not understand it at all. When Jerome Bonaparte was the brother, as he is now the uncle, of an Emperor of the French, and was in the lustiness of his youth, though not inexperienced in the ways of the world, he visited, as we all know, the United States. While in Baltimore, before he had concentrated his affections in matrimony, he wandered from flower to flower in that garden of beauty. The prince was a favored visitor everywhere. On one occasion, being invited as a guest to a ball, a young belle, yet in her teens, called for him, and invited him to a seat at her side, in the paternal carriage, in which she lounged unattended. The prince joyfully accepted the invitation, and had hardly seated himself by the side of beauty and innocence, when he showed, by his ardent admiration of the charms of the former, how incapable he was of appreciating the simplicity of the latter. The young girl expressed her indignation, and discharging her companion, drove home and invoked the aid of a brother in the emergency. The prince was called to account and was ready with an apology. In France, he said, he would have lost his claim to gallantry if he had acted otherwise; but, upon his faith as a Frenchman, the prince continued, he would not have treated the young beauty as he had done, had he not supposed that was what she expected, and the express object of her visit—He acknowledged, with a shrug of the shoulders, that he was a bete, and ought to have known that Old Europe was one thing and New America quite another. Such was the virtue and simplicity of our American grandmothers. Their beautiful descendants have lost nothing, we are sure, of their ancestral virtue, but have become much more knowing. If they should take up a prince and a Frenchman, they would know what to expect.—Harper's Magazine.

A Non-Committal Man.

We have just seen a non-committalist, a conditional man, one who was never known to give an unconditional assent to any proposition however self-evident. As an illustration of his character we will give an imaginary dialogue in which he is designated as Mr. White.

"A beautiful morning, Mr. White," we remarked.

"Yes," said he, doubtingly, "but I shouldn't wonder much if it rained before night."

"Your Piazza is a great improvement in your house," we continued.

"Yes sir, but it's a little too narrow.—If it was a foot wider it would be just the thing."

"In that case you must like Mr. B.'s, for if I am not mistaken he is just that width."

"Very true, but then it's too high."

"How do you like our minister? He is generally popular, a good preacher, and a good man."

"Why, yes, I admit all that, but didn't you notice how askew his neckcloth was last Sunday?"

"No; but admit that to be the case, it was no objection to him in his official character."

"Why no, but then we expect a minister to pay as much attention to dress as other folks."

"You have a fine field of patatoes yonder, Mr. White."

"Yes, they look well enough above ground, but there's no knowing but they may all be rotten before they are all gathered."

"The new railroad will be a great thing for the town, and do very much to build it up; don't you think so?"

"Well, I don't know but it may, but then it will be very noisy, so that a body can't have a quit moment to himself."

"We must be content to submit to a little convenience for the sake of obtaining a great good. That's the true philosophy of [illegible]

WATER IN FLOUR.—Professor Beck, of Albany, has recently analyzed samples of flour from various sections of the country—finding an amount of water in each, ranging from 11 54 100 per cent. to 13 80 100 per cent. The following statement shows the proportion of water in several of the samples thus analyzed:

New Jersey,	12 75
New York, Genesee wheat,	13.85

AN Irishman having pleaded guilty to an indictment, was asked by the judge if he had anything to say for himself. The Ermite gave no answer. "Do you hear, Patrick, what the Court says to you?" Still no answer. "Are you going to answer, sir?" Still silent. "Sheriff, commit that man for contempt of Court!" "May it plaze yer honor, sir, I'm dafe and dumb: I can naither hear nor spake at all." The judge was satisfied.

I HAVE read books enough, and conversed with enough of splendidly cultivated minds in my time, but I assure you I have heard higher sentiments from the lips of poor, uneducated men and women, when exerting the spirit of severe, yet gentle heroism under difficulties and afflictions, or speaking their simple thoughts as to circumstances in the lot of their friends and neighbors, than I ever met out of the pages of the Bible.

Our enterprising groceryman, Mr. J. Marsh, bought and shipped from here the last month, over 1,000 bus cranberries They brought here from $2,25 to $3,00 per bushel.—La Crosse Independent.

Our friends abroad would be surprised to learn, that there has been shipped from this port, during the last fall, over 7,000 bus of potatoes. They have been worth from 50 to 70c. per bus.—La Crosse Independent.

"I'M afraid you spend your evenings in bad company," said a wag to a confirmed hermit.

"Impossible," exclaimed the other, "I spend my evenings alone."

"Aye," returned the merry Andrew, 'that proves the correctness of my assertion."

"OH! father, did you know that Uncle James has put his leg out?"

"Heavens! my son, get my hat and cane instantly."

"Oh, you needn't worry, Governor, he had to put it out to walk didn't he?"

Local, Miscellaneous, News, &c.

OPERA.—Don't forget the opera of "Der Freischütz," at Young's Hall, to-night. The Musical Society have been at great expense in preparing this opera, and deserve a full house.

GREAT LOAD OF WILD MEAT.—We saw, this morning, at NEIMAN'S, the greatest Christmas load we have ever seen in Milwaukee, consisting of 12 fat deer—some of them very large bucks—and two black bears, one weighing 200 and the other 170 lbs dressed, with the skins on. They were killed above the Baraboo, west of the Wisconsin River, by Messrs. GAVITT and PRENTISS, of Merton, and Mr. GRISWOLD, of Hartford. They drove into the woods with their team, built huts for themselves and horses, and camped there in regular hunter's style, and in five days shot the two bears and 16 deer. Good hunting, that!

The purveyors for the public palate, who are lucky enough to buy the load, can send us a good steak or roast, of each kind, and ———.

P. S.—Messrs. GRANGE & COLE, at the west end of Spring Street Bridge, have bought the whole load, and are now ready to furnish venison or bear steaks, roast, etc., besides everything else in the meat line, from quails, chickens, turkeys and pigs, to mammoth hogs and beeves.

N. B.—The bear that hangs at the door is only the cub. The full grown bear is within, or was when we were there. Don't call together.

HOMICIDE CASE.—Edward Fassbinder was arrested and committed to jail, yesterday afternoon, charged with assaulting with intent to kill Mathernus Switzer, whose death we mentioned yesterday. According to Fassbinder's story, he killed Schwatzer in self defense. Fassbinder keeps a saloon, some 5 miles from here, on the Fond du Lac Road, to which place Switzer went with three others and called for some whiskey, which was given them, but they did not pay for it. They then threw dice for beer which the defendant brought them, but would not give it to them until they paid for it. Switzer, so the defendant's story runs—then caught up a flat iron, advanced towards the defendant, threatening to kill him unless he gave them the beer. The accused got hold of his rifle and declared he would shoot the first man who came towards him. Schwitzer advanced and was shot as we stated yesterday. The physician who attended Switzer said yesterday, that he could not recover.

BURGLARS ARRESTED.—George Wood and John Wilson, (alias) were arrested in this city, this morning, by Sheriff Page, Under-Sheriff Conover and Constable Kessler, at a boarding-house on Main st., and the goods which were stolen from a clothing store at Ozaukee on Saturday night week, were found in their possession; also a large quantity of dry goods, probably stolen from some other store.

They are the scamps who stole Davis & More's horses at Ozaukee, and are the persons who escaped from the Waukesha jail, some three or four weeks ago, where they were confined for breaking into Mr. Purington's Jewelry store.—They are doubtless the villains who attempted to break into Peters' Jewelry store, West Water St., a few weeks ago. They will probably be taken to Waukesha or Ozaukee, for trial.

OLD SANTA CLAUS, we are informed, notwithstanding the cold weather, is preparing to visit the children, small and great, and is preparing a lot of presents for them. We have tried, many a time, since we were a very small boy, to get sight of this good friend of all good children, but have never succeeded, but we have many a time been rejoiced at what he has left for us. We hope the children who read the Free Democrat will all be made glad by his visits.

Police Court.

Lewis Filmer was arraigned this morning for an assault with intent to kill constable Kessler, and was held to bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the Circuit Court, and in default thereof committed.

LIBEL SUIT.—Charles T. Loosey, Esq., the Austrian Consul at New-York, has commenced a suit for libel against the proprietors of the New-York Express, damages $50,000, for alleging that he refused to obey the summons issued by a police magistrate, and that the Consul was engaged in a fraudulent transaction.

WEATHER.—The weather is still cold, tho' the sun shines down upon the frozen ground with much brightness. At sunrise, yesterday, the thermometer marked 6° below 0, and this morning it stood 4° below 0. Tho' the sleighing is not very good, we are almost constantly greeted with the sound of sleigh-bells, ringing right merrily.

PROF. LARIGO'S English and Commercial School, which commenced a new term yesterday, has been in successful operation for a long time, and therefore can challenge the patronage of the community, with the confidence of an old friend. Now is the time for parents to send in their children.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.—Those who have goods to sell appropriate for the holidays, will consult their own interests and ours, by advertising them in the FREE DEMOCRAT. Don't be backward, friends, but send in your notices without waiting to be called on.

STOVES.—MILLAR & JOHNSON, second door east of the American House, have stoves enough to warm a large part of the State in pretty cold weather, which they are ready to distribute to those who need, on the most reasonable terms. See their advertisement.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A man named Chas. Stalsmit, had his right arm sawed off on Saturday morning, by a circular saw, near the Galena Railroad depot, at Chicago.

LOSS.—The loss by fire at Chicago on Friday night last, was $15,000.

The Young Mother.

Behold that fair young mother! see how soft
And peacefully she smiles, as though her heart,
Reposing in the fullness of his love,
Found perfect rest. Upon her snowy breast
A smiling infant sleeps her first born son,
Her virgin love's first dear embodiment.
Her husband sits beside, half-bending, half
Supported by her chair, o'er which his arm
Is thrown protectingly; with the proud joy
Possession gives, he feels they are his own,
And with fond admiration looks on both.
But now a deeper glance—a warmer love
From his soul rushes to his sparkling eyes,
Which rest with rapture on her lovely form
When with most womanly and blameless art
She takes her infant's hand caressingly
And spreads its dimple beauty on her cheek,
Which now with deepest blushes is suffused.
But that sweet art to hide its burning glow
Is powerless, and then she quickly stoops
To press his placed forehead with her lips;
But all in vain, for now her trembling limbs
The soft confusion of her heart betrays,
Till overpowered by love, she's driven to hide
Her glowing face upon her husband's breast,
And on her ready lip she now receives
The burning pressure of his fervent kiss,
Forgetting all but the absorbing love
With which she trusted her young life to him.

Courting in Church.

An excentric rector remarked a gentleman at church who was not a parishioner but who Sunday after Sunday, placed himself in a pew adjoining that of a young widow. On the first occasion he detected him slyly drawing the lady's glove off the back of the pew, where she was accustomed to place it. (Her hand and arm was delicately fair.) By and by, the lady's prayer-book fell—of course accidentally—from the edge of her pew into the gentleman's. He picked it up, found a leaf turned down, and scanned a passage which evidently caused a smile of complacency. Our minister saw all their movements, and continued to watch them with a scrutinizing eye, for two successive Sundays. On the third, as soon as the collects were read, and while the beadle yet obsequiously waited to attend him to the chancel, our excentric pastor, in a strong and distinct voice said:

"I publish the banns of marriage between M ——and H——, (deliberately pronouncing the names of the parties.) If any of you know any just cause," &c.

The eyes of the whole congregation were turned on the widow and the gay Lothario; the lady suffused with blushes, and the gentleman crimsoned with anger; she fanning herself with vehemence, and he opening and shutting the pew door with rage and violence.—The minister mean while, proceeded through his accustomed duties with the same decorum and ease as if perfectly innocent of the agitation he had excited. The sermon preached and the service ended, away to the vestry rushed the parties at the heels of the pastor.

"Who authorized you, sir, to make such a publication of banns?" demanded they both in a breath.

"Authorized me?" said he with a stare that heightened their confusion.

"Yes, sir, who authorized you?"

"Oh," said the minister, with a sly glance alternately at each, "if you don't approve of it, I'll forbid the banns next Sunday."

"Sir," said the lady, "you have been too officious already—nobody requested you to do any such thing; you had better mind your own business."

"Why, my pretty dear," said he, "patting her on the cheek, "what I have done is all in the way of business, and if you do not like to wait for three publications, I advise you, sir, (turning to the gentleman,) to procure the license, the ring, and the fee, and then the whole may be settled as soon as to-morrow."

"Well," replied the gentleman, addressing the lady, "with your permission I will get them, and we may be married in a day or two."

"Oh, you may both do as you please," pettishly yet nothing loth, replied the widow.

It was a day or two after that the license was procured. The parson received his fee, the bridegroom his bride, and the widow for the last time threw her gloves over the pew, and, it was afterwards said, all parties were satisfied.

S. M. BOOTH vs. H. BIRCHARD.—The motion for a new trial in this case was argued last week, Messrs. Ryan and Yates in favor of the motion on the part of Birchard, and Mr. Noggle against it for Booth. On Friday Judge Doolittle gave his opinion in a clear and able manner, and denied the motion. Mr. Birchard's counsel then gave notice for a bill of exceptions, so the case goes to the Supreme Court. That Judge Doolittle will be sustained we have no doubt.—Janesville Free Press.

Arrival of the Prometheus.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—The steamship Prometheus, before reported below, arrived to-day. Our files of California papers contain very little intelligence of importance. The mining news continues favorable, though the miners in some localities are greatly in want of water, and were anxiously expecting rain, of which less than the average quantity has fallen. Business at San Francisco, and at most places in the interior, was extremely depressed.

Advices from Oregon state that a numerous and powerful tribe, called Snakes, had commenced war upon the whites, and had slaughtered a whole train of emigrants.

The commercial intelligence from San Francisco represents affairs as about in the same condition as at our previous dates. It was not anticipated that there would be any change for the better until the commencement of the new year.

The advices from St. Juan represent the revotion in Nicaragua as still in progress, but we do not learn that either party has yet achieved any decided advantage. The British sloop-of-war Vesta and steam frigate Termagant were at Greytown.

San Francisco papers record the loss of the whale ship City of New Bedford, but those on hand furnish no particulars.

The U. S. steamship Mississippi had arrived at San Francisco, but her day of sailing for an Atlantic port had not been fixed.

BOSTON, Dec. 16th.—The failure of the Glendon Mill Company a large establishment, was announced to-day, after it was ascertained that on the Monday previous the Superintendent had left for parts unknown. On the Wednesday following, a letter was received from him stating that he was a defaulter in the sum of $250,000, and that it would be useless to pursue him as he would not be taken alive.

The Globe says the workmen on the line of the Brantford Railroad suffer large losses by the Joint Stock failure.

Loss of the Prop. Westmoreland, Capt. Clark.

We are indebted to Clinton Wright, Engineer of the above Propeller, for the following facts:

The propeller left Chicago on Saturday, the 2d of December. Stopped at Milwaukee and took on 500 barrels of flour, and then started for the North, expecting to get wood at Port Washington, but the sea was so heavy that they were obliged to return to Milwaukee for wood. On Wednesday morning the Propeller left Milwaukee again, and made the south point of the Manitou Island on Thursday at ten o'clock. The sea was so heavy and the ice had formed so much on her bows and sides, that she became water-logged, and her fires put out.

She then floated about for four hours after her fires were out, and made out to sea some fourteen miles, the passengers and crew remaining on board until she began to go down. The boats were launched, and the largest yawl was lost in launching. The passengers and crew filled the life-boat from the hurricane deck.—There were ten passengers on board, two of whom were ladies, and the crew consisted of twenty-three persons. After they got into the life-boat it was upset, and two passengers were drowned. Five of the passengers were lost and twelve of the crew. The two ladies were saved.

The survivors made the shore at Platte river Bay in Michigan, where they stopped about 40 hours. They then started for the Manitou Island in their boats, and were obliged to land some ten miles north of where they started.—The crew all went north except the first and second engineers and the second mate, who footed it on the beach to Manistee, where they took the Whirlwind and arrived at this place yesterday forenoon.

The names of the passengers were, as far as we could get them, as follows:

Miss Anna Taylor, Chicago; Miss Kate Avery, Boston, Mass.; Robert Raney, Wm. Saltonstall, Wm. Mann, and a Dutchman, name unknown—all saved.

Paul Pilky, first mate; Sam'l Adams, 2d do.; Clinton Wright, 1st eng'r; Mr. Breckenridge, 2d do; Dan'l McIntosh, And. McNeil, wheelsmen; Mr. Fletcher, Frank Williams, Hannibal Priest, and Solomon Simons, cooks; Andy Boyle, Patrick Daly, and Michael Kennedy, firemen. All saved.

The vessel was owned in Buffalo by Ellis, Petrie & Co., and was worth some $40,000.—Racine Advocate.

CURE FOR ALL!
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT
CITIZENS OF THE UNION—
You have done me the honor so with one voice, from one end of the Union to the other, to ... the character of my Ointment with your approbation. ... two years since I made it known among you, and already it has obtained more celebrity than any other Medicine in so short a period. THOMAS HOLLOWAY, 38, corner Ann and Nassau streets, New York.

ASTONISHING CURE OF SORE LEGS, AFTER NINE YEARS STANDING.
Copy of a Letter from Mr. W J. Langley, of Huntsville Yadkin Co., North Carolina, U. S., dated Nov. 1, 1852.
READ HIS OWN WORDS
To Professor HOLLOWAY—
SIR: It is not my wish to become notorious, neither is this letter written for the mere sake of writing, but to say, that your Ointment cured me of one of the most dreadful cutaneous diseases that flesh is heir to, and which was considered by all who knew me, to be entirely beyond the reach of medicine. For nine years I was afflicted with one of the most painful and troublesome sore legs that ever fell to the lot of man; and after trying every medicine I had ever heard of, I resigned in despair all hope of being cured; but a friend brought me a couple of large pots of your Ointment, which caused the sores on my legs to heal, and I entirely regained my health, to my agreeable surprise and delight, and to the astonishment of my friends. (Signed) W. J. LANGLEY.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF A BAD BREAST WHEN NEARLY AT THE POINT OF DEATH
Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. Durant, dated New Orleans Nov. 9, 1852.
To Prof HOLLOWAY, 38, cor. Ann and Nassau Sts., N Y
Dear Sir: it is with heartfelt gratitude I have to inform you, that by the use of your Ointment and Pills, the life of my wife has been saved. For seven years she had a bad breast, with ten running wounds, (not of a cancerous nature). I was told that nothing could save her; she was then induced to use your Ointment and Pills, when, in the short space of three months, they effected a perfect cure, to the astonishment of all who knew us. We obtained your medicines from Messrs. Wright & Co., of Chartres street, New Orleans. I send this from "Hotel des Princes," Paris, although I had written it at New Orleans, before we finally left, at that time not knowing your address at New York. (Signed) R. DURANT.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:

Bad Legs,	Fistulas,	Scalds
Bad Breasts,	Gout,	Sore Nipples,
Burns,	Glandular Swellings,	Sore Throat,
Bunions,		Skin diseases
Chilblains,	Lumbago,	Scurvy,
Chapped hands,	Piles,	Sore heads.
Contracted and Stiff Joints,	Rheumatism,	Ulcers,
	Salt Rheum,	Wounds.

 Sold at the establishment of Prof. HOLLOWAY, at No. 80 Maiden Lane, New York City; also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the United States, in Pots, at 37½ cents, 87 cents and $1 50 cents each. To be had wholesale of the principal Drug Houses in the Union.
There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.
N B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each Pot.

MILWAUKEE:

TUESDAY:::::::::::::::::::::DECEMBER 19.

United States Senator.

The Madison Journal has an article with the above caption, conceived in the right spirit. It gives a list of ten names spoken of in connection with this office,—"all superior men—possessing talents of a high order," and says there "may be other names that will come before the Legislature, presenting equal claims for support." It also says:

"That our party has a majority on joint ballot, is generally conceded: but it is so small that there must be great harmony of action in order to make it effective Consequently each member may be called upon to yield a little of personal preference, to secure this united action We consider it no obstacle to harmony, that each location should present a man for the high office of U S Senator, if this presentation is made in the proper spirit; and that it will be we have no doubt So far as we can discover, the members elect of the Republican party are actuated with the same desire, and that nothing will disturb the harmony of their action We indicate no personal preference among the names we have presented They are all men for whom we entertain high respect, and we should hail the election of either of them to the U S Senate, as an indication of a "better time coming"

The temper of the Republican press on this question, is such as to indicate harmony of action in the party, and we trust that nothing will arise to disturb that harmony When the public sentiment points strongly to one man, so that he is evidently and unmistakably the choice of the people for Senator, it is perfectly proper for the press to express such preference—But when there is no concentration of opinion on any individual—as there clearly is not, at present—for any paper to champion the claims of any one, in a partizan spirit, would only tend to his defeat and the distraction of the party—Thus far, we have seen nothing of the kind, and all have moved forward in harmony.

AMOUNT OF SPECIE IN THE COUNTRY.—The Philadelphia Bulletin has the following:

"The total deposits of gold and silver at the mint during the month of November amounted to $1,235,250. The amount coined $817,298 The total deposits for eleven months this year, compared with the two preceding years, is as follows: 1852 $47,720,295: 1853 $48,928,557 The decline in the receipts at the Philadelphia mint is chiefly to be attributed to the operations of the San Francisco Branch Mint and the New-York Assay Office"

From official and other sources, the Bulletin estimates the net foreign export of specie from 1847 (the year that California began to supply gold) to Dec. 1st, 1854, at $113,398,081. The total home productions of gold, as reported at the different mints during that period, is given as $252,515,929 These figures which the Bulletin says cannot be more than a million or two out of the way, leave an excess of specie in the country of one hundred and thirty-nine millions, one hundred and twenty-five thousand, nine hundred and forty-eight dollars

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.—A large public meeting was held at Montrose, Pa., on the 27 ult, at which resolutions were adopted proposing the formation of a 'Republican Party' on the ruins of the old parties, and based upon opposition to slavery extension and the fugitive slave law. Judges Jessup and Wilmot, the former the most influential Whig of that section, and the latter the most influential Democrat, were present and delivered speeches advocating the resolutions.

BOOTS AND SHOES MADE BY MACHINERY.—A foreign correspondent of the Boston Traveller says a patent has been taken out in England for making boots and shoes by machinery. So favorable are the prospects, that a public company has advanced $25,000 to erect the necessary machinery, by the river side, at Pimlico, and the worth of the invention has been estimated at millions of money. It will undersell and ruin the vast quantities of very indifferent articles now produced, chiefly from Northamptonshire, and it is stated that it will furnish 17,000 pair per diem of stoutly finished boots or shoes.

INDEPENDENT POLITICIANS.—The man who holds an opinion of his own, and who boasts to have never differed from his party in any act or thought of his life, is more apt to be a demagogue than a statesman' True consistency lies in fidelity to one's convictions of duty, however changing: and he is the safe politician who boldly avows and bravely adheres to those convictions under all circumstances. Honesty, fidelity, capacity—the Jeffersonian tests—these, at last, are the true qualifications for office. Consistency, in the vulgar acceptation, belongs oftener to the demagogue and ignoramus than to the honest politician and the capable statesman Those high personal qualities which make us love admire, and trust in men, belong oftener to the rash, impulsive, and brave, than to the cautious, calculating, and "consistent."—Richmond (Va) Examiner

DOUGLAS JEROLD'S WIT.—A London correspondent of the New-York Tribune, writes:

"Is Mr. Heraud known at all to you? He is the author of 'The Descent into Hell.' apropos of which he was once annoying Douglas Jerold with importunate questions at an unwelcome time. Among others, he queried,

'By the by Mr Jerold, did you ever read my Descent into Hell?'

'No, sir,' replied the infuriated dramatist, 'but I should like to see it.'

'Douglas dear,' said his wife, appealing to him in a small feminine dispute, 'do you think I am generally bad-temper?'

'No, my dear,' says he, 'I think you are particularly so.'"

Sandwich Islands.

The Sandwich Islands that are inhabited are eight in number, with an aggregate area of 6,-000 square miles, being about one-fifth that of the Island of Cuba. Of these 6,000 square miles, only a small portion is arable land—Honolulu, the leading port, possesses the only safe harbor at present, but there are harbors in the other islands, that could be made available for shipping with some artificial means.

The value of foreign imports for the year 1853, was $1,281,951; value of foreign goods re-exported, $191 397; value of domestic exports, 281,599; revenue, $326 620; disbursements, $265, 795

The exports consists of sugar, syrup, molasses, galls, coffee, salt, wool, cocoa nuts and provisions

The climate is represented as being remarkably uniform and salubrious The average temperature of the eastern sides, is seventy two degrees; in winter, the thermometer rarely goes below sixty degreess.

The soil and climate of the Sandwich Islands are well adapted to the cultivation of wheat, cotton, tobacco, coffee, indigo, silk, arrow root, and potatoes Sugar is becoming one of the leading products of the islands. The average yield per acre is two thousand pounds, and the ordinary value five cents per pound. In seven of the islands there were 1,650 acres under sugar cultivation in 1852, and these had increased to 2,750 in 1853 It has been calculated that 25,000 acres may easily be brought under sugar cultivation in each of the four principal islands, and that every acre may be made to yield 3,000 pounds annually. Such a crop, at five cents per pound, would yield $15,000,000

BABY SHOW IN GEORGIA.—Among the attractions of the Southern Agricultural Fair, held at Augusta, Georgia, on the 7th inst, was a baby show. The result is thus announced in the Augusta Constitutionalist:

The last scene in the baby show line came off yesterday, and much anxiety was manifested by the crowd to see the fortunate little ones. We understand that there were some 7 entries, more premiums would have been awarded had the conditions of the society been complied with, requiring them to be dressed in homespun. Premiums were awarded to three, in the following order.

1st. The daughter of Mr. Jackson Turpin, aged 2 years, a silver pitcher worth $50.

2nd. A fine looking boy of Mrs. G. McLaughlin, eighteen months old, silver pitcher, worth $25.

3d A fat, ruby and handsome boy of Mrs D. B. Plumb, ten months old, a silver goblet worth $10.

Acorn and Chicory Coffee

There is in Berlin, Prussia, according to a correspondent of the United States Gazette, a large establishment for the manufacture of coffee from acorns and chicory, the article being made separately from each. The chicory is mixed with an equal weight of turnips to render it sweeter. The acorn coffee, which is made from roasted and ground acorns, is sold in large quantities, and frequently with rather a medicinal than an economical view, as it is thought to have a wholesome effect upon the blood particularly of scrofulous persons. Acorn coffee is, however, made and used in many parts of Germany for the sole purpose of adulterating genuine coffee, and has been imported into the United States for the same use, so that, no doubt, many persons who would shrink from drinking acorn coffee have actually drunk it under another name If it be medicinal in its nature, as is said, the use of it ought to be encouraged. And at any rate, as it is healthly in its nature, and can be made very cheaply from the super-abundance of acorns in our forests, it seems to recommend itself under certain circumstances as a substitute for coffee, the price of which would thereby be much reduced.—Hunt's Merchant's Magazine.

FRIED APPLES.—Who does not like fried apples? We all like apples in a raw state, or when they are baked or stewed: and it cannot be denied that they furnish one of the most wholesome and agreeable kinds of diet. Although apples raw, stewed or baked may be pronounced excellent and delicious, still there are many kinds, when fried, which are super-excellent: and they who seldom meet with a dish of fried apples, often wonder why they are not always fried instead of baked. When apples are baked they often burst open, and much of the best part of them flows out as juice, and is lost. But when they are fried the whole is saved and "it is a dainty dish.' In those regions, where potatoes are few and poor, on account of the rot, fried apples are an excellent substitute. A dish of fried apples is quickly prepared for the table, which is often a consideration of no small importance Wash them—cut them in two—take out the stem, core, and calyx, and unpealed, put them into a tin pan with butter, or the gravy of baked pork, with some water, in proportion to the quantity to be fried—cover them with a lid—set them on the stove—stir them occasionally until they become soft—and be careful not to burn them. Romanites, which are often almost worthless, baked or raw, "disappear with good gusto when fried." We may truthfully pronounce despicable Penins, when fried, good: but the Porters, Belleflowers, Tallman sweets, and a long list which we might name, when fried, are really a luxury. Sour apples do not fry well—they fry to pieces too much.—Cor. Country Gent.

GAS WORKS FOR MADISON.—We learn that an experienced operator in Gas Works has made a proposition to light Madison with Gas. The cost, allowing for two miles of main pipe, is estimated at $30,000, upon which the profits would hardly be less than 15 or 20 per cent. The gentleman referred to, proposes to take [illegible], or one half of the stock, if our citizens [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

NECK OR NOTHING.

Lord H——, an English nobleman, ruined by the extravagances of London fashion, had counted on a handsome inheritance to pay off his debts and enable him to pass the remainder of his days in wisdom and quiet. But the expected inheritance came not—and the young lord, rendered desperate by his disappointment, and finding himself doomed to the most precarious condition, deprived of all hope of fortune, resolved to get rid of a future full of misery by blowing out his brains.

The loaded pistol was in his hand, when most unaccountably, Lord H—— suddenly remembered that the Epson races were soon to come off. Too superstitious to believe that chance had inspired him with such a thought in such a moment, without a motive, he dropt his pistol and began calculating his chances of regaining his fortune in the approaching contest. His critical situation was not known, his credit in the sporting clubs was unlimited, and he availed himself of it by unscrupulously engaging in very heavy bets with some of the amateur sportsmen If fortune favored him, all would go well, but if he lost, he could then execute his project and make use of the pistol. It was a last resort—but Lord H—— in his peculiar way of thinking, thought his faults would be effaced by the expiation, and that the fashionable world would pardon his weakness and errors if he should compensate them by a voluntary death

He therefore deposited the pistol in its case and went to the club to engage the heaviest possible bets on three or four of the horses, most reliable in his opinion It was far more than fortune, it was his life, which these rapid coursers were to bear

The sum total of his bets amounted to 50,000 pounds sterling He presented himself with a calm and firm face on the race course Not a cloud obscured the serenity of his features No one in beholding him could have suspected the serious position in which he was placed He appeared like a wealthy gentleman, who only risked a portion of his surplus, and could easily drown any loss in a glass of champagne His courage was rewarded. His winnings allowed him to live.

He had won more than money—for wisdom came to him out of his dreadful struggle A short time afterwards he married a fortune and he became scrupulous as to his winnings at Epson He thought his money wrongfully got Assembling all who had been his adversaries in betting on the races, he said to them:—"I have only just discovered by my examination of my accounts that the state of my affairs did not permit me to back the bets we once made together If fortune had been unfavorable, I should not have been in a situation to pay my losses These bets are then, in fact, null, and delicacy obliges me to return you the money"

Some hesitated to accept, but Lord H—— insisted so resolutely they were compelled to yield, and the fifty thousand pounds were rightly distributed

This magnanimous conduct produced a lively sensation and honors the annals of British sport Lord H——, lately deceased, has left an illustrious name, a revered memory and an example which gentlemen riders will always cite with admiration—Courier des Etats Unis

MANNERS OF AMERICAN LADIES—Bonaparte at Baltimore—If the morals are not loose, the manners of our women are certainly easy—There is no country in the world where such unrestrained intercourse between the sexes before marriage is allowed, as in the United States—an inalienable republican right, which the women never surrender There is an innocent freedom from suspicion on the part of parents and a rollicking enjoyment of the license they possess on the part of the daughters which are are as charming to the lovers of nature as they are convenient to the unexperienced in art—This freedom began early in this country, dating back to the patriarchal times of our settlement, and was consonant with, as it was secured by the simplicity of the life of our ancestors. Debauched Europe could not understand it at all When Jerome Bonaparte was the brother, as he is now the uncle, of an Emperor of the French, and was in the hustiness of his youth, though not inexperienced in the ways of the world, he visited, as we all know, the United States. While in Baltimore, before he had concentrated his affections in matrimony, he wandered from flower to flower in that garden of beauty. The prince was a favored visitor everywhere. On one occasion, being invited as a guest to a ball, a young belle, yet in her teens, called for him, and invited him to a seat at her side, in the paternal carriage, in which she lounged unattended The prince joyfully accepted the invitation, and had hardly seated himself by the side of beauty and innocence, when he showed, by his ardent admiration of the charms of the former, how incapable he was of appreciating the simplicity of the latter The young girl expressed her indignation, and discharging her companion, drove home and invoked the aid of a brother in the emergency. The prince was called to account and was ready with an apology In France, he said, he would have lost his claim to gallantry if he had acted otherwise; but, upon his faith as a Frenchman, the prince continued, he would not have treated the young beauty as he had done, had he not supposed that was what she expected, and the express object of her visit.—He acknowledged, with a shrug of the shoulders, that he was a beto, and ought to have known that Old Europe was one thing and New America quite another. Such was the virtue and simplicity of our American grandmothers Their beautiful descendants have lost nothing, we are sure, of their ancestral virtue, but have become much more knowing If they should take up a prince and a Frenchman, they would know what to expect—Harper's Magazine.

A Non-Committal Man.

We have just seen a non-committalist, a conditional man, one who was never known to give an unconditional assent to any proposition however self-evident As an illustration of his character we will give an imaginary dialogue in which he is designated as Mr White.

"A beautiful morning, Mr. White," we remarked.

"Yes," said he, doubtingly, "but I shouldn't wonder much if it rained before night"

"Your Piazza is a great improvement in your house," we continued.

"Yes sir, but it's a little too narrow—If it was a foot wider it would be just the thing."

"In that case you must like Mr. B's, for if I am not mistaken he is just that width"

"Very true, but then it's too high."

"How do you like our minister? He is generally popular, a good preacher, and a good man."

"Why, yes, I admit all that, but didn't you notice how askew his neckcloth was last Sunday?"

"No; but admit that to be the case, it was no objection to him in his official character."

"Why no, but then we expect a minister to pay as much attention to dress as other folks."

"You have a fine field of patatoes yonder, Mr. White."

"Yes, they look well enough above ground, but there's no knowing but they may all be rotten before they are all gathered."

"The new railroad will be a great thing for the town, and do very much to build it up; don't you think so?"

"Well, I don't know but it may, but then it will be very noisy, so that a body can't have a quit moment to himself."

"We must be content to submit to a little convenience for the sake of obtaining a great good. That's the true philosophy of life."

Almost despairing of obtaining an unconditional assent to our inquiries, we as a last resort, pointed to a boy who was passing, and remarked that the boy had a very [illegible]

WATER IN FLOUR.—Professor Beck, of Albany, has recently analyzed samples of flour from various sections of the country—finding an amount of water in each, ranging from 11 54 100 per cent. to 13 80 100 per cent. The following statement shows the proportion of water in several of the samples thus analyzed:

New Jersey,	12.75
New York, Genesee wheat,	13 85
Ohio flour from Louisville,	12.85
Indiana, flour from Logansport,	12 85
Illinois, flour from Oswego,	12 90
Michigan, flour from Bruce Mills,	13.20
Michigan, flour from Monroe,	13 10
Michigan, of Mediterranean wheat,	11 54
Wisconsin, flour made there,	13 30
Georgia, flour from Floyd county,	17.75
Average 12 81 per cent

AN Irishman having pleaded guilty to an indictment, was asked by the judge if he had anything to say for himself The Ermite gave no answer. "Do you hear, Patrick, what the Court says to you? Still no answer "Are you going to answer, sir?" Still silent. "Sheriff, commit that man for contempt of Court" 'May it plaze yer honor, sir, I'm dafe and dumb: I can naither hear nor spake at all." The judge was satisfied

I HAVE read books enough, and conversed with enough of splendidly cultivated minds in my time, but I assure you I have heard higher sentiments from the lips of poor, uneducated men and women, when exerting the spirit of severe, yet gentle heroism under difficulties and afflictions, or speaking their simple thoughts as to circumstances in the lot of their friends and neighbors, than I ever met out of the pages of the Bible

Our enterprising groceryman, Mr J Marsh, bought and shipped from here the last month, over 1,000 bus cranberries They brought here from $2,25 to $3,00 per bushel—La Crosse Independent

Our friends abroad would be surprised to learn, that there has been shipped from this port, during the last fall over 7 000 bus of potatoes They have been worth from 50 to 70c per bus—La Crosse Independent

"I'M afraid you spend your evenings in bad company," said a wag to a confirmed hermit

"Impossible," exclaimed the other, "I spend my evenings alone"

"Aye," returned the merry Andrew, 'that proves the correctness of my assertion"

"OH! father, did you know that Uncle James has put his leg out?'

'Heavens! my son, get my hat and cane instantly"

'Oh, you needn't worry, Governor, he had to put it out to walk didn't he?

The Young Mother.

Behold that fair young mother! see how soft
And peacefully she smiles, as though her heart,
Reposing in the fullness of his love,
Found perfect rest. Upon her snowy breast
A smiling infant sleeps, her first born son,
Her virgin love's first dear embodiment.
Her husband sits beside, half-bending, half
Supported by her chair, o'er which his arm
Is thrown protectingly; with the proud joy
Possession gives, he feels they are his own,
And with fond admiration looks on both.
But now a deeper glance—a warmer love
From his soul rushes to his sparkling eyes,
Which rest with rapture on her lovely form
When with most womanly and blameless art
She takes her infant's hand caressingly
And spreads its dimple beauty on her cheek,
Which now with deepest blushes is suffused.
But that sweet art to hide its burning glow
Is powerless, and then she quickly stoops
To press his placed forehead with her lips:
But all in vain, for now her trembling limbs
The sweet confusion of her heart betrays,
Till overpowered by love, she's driven to hide
Her glowing face upon her husband's breast,
And on her ready lip she now receives
The burning pressure of his fervent kiss,
Forgetting all but the absorbing love
With which she trusted her young life to him.

Courting in Church.

An eccentric rector remarked a gentleman at church who was not a parishioner but who Sunday after Sunday placed himself in a pew adjoining that of a young widow. On the first occasion he detected him slyly drawing the lady's glove off the back of the pew, where she was accustomed to place it. (Her hand and arm was delicately fair.) By and by, the lady's prayer book fell—of course accidentally—from the edge of her pew into the gentleman's. He picked it up, found a leaf turned down, and a [illegible] passage which evidently caused a smile of complacency. Our minister saw all their movements, and continued to watch them with a scrutinizing eye, for two successive Sundays. On the third, as soon as the collects were read and while the beadle yet obsequiously waited to attend him to the chancel, our eccentric pastor, in a strong and distinct voice said:

"I publish the banns of marriage between M——and H——, (deliberately pronouncing the names of the parties.) If any of you know any just cause," &c.

The eyes of the whole congregation were turned on the widow and the gay Lothario; the lady suffused with blushes and the gentleman crimsoned with anger, she fanning herself with vehemence, and he opening and shutting the pew door with rage and violence— The minister meanwhile proceeded through his customed duties with the same decorum [illegible] as if perfectly innocent of the agitation he had excited. The sermon preached and the service ended, away to the vestry rushed the parties at the heels of the pastor.

"Who authorized you, sir, to make such a publication of banns?" demanded they both in a breath.

"Authorized me?" said he with a stare that heightened their confusion.

"Yes sir, who authorized you?"

"Oh," said the minister, with a sly glance alternately at each, "if you don't approve of it, I'll forbid the banns next Sunday."

"Sir," said the lady, "you have been too officious. [illegible]—nobody requested you to do any such thing, you had better mind your own business."

"Why my pretty dear," said he "patting her on the cheek, "what I have done is all in the way of business and if you do not like to wait for three publications, I advise you, sir, (turning to the gentleman) to procure the license, the ring and the fee, and then the whole may be settled as soon as to-morrow."

"Well," replied the gentleman, addressing the lady, "with your permission I will get them, and we may be married in a day or two."

"Oh, you may both do as you please," pettishly yet nothing loth, replied the widow.

It was a day or two after that the license was procured. The parson received his fee, the bridegroom his bride, and the widow for the last time threw her gloves over the pew, and, it was afterwards said all parties were satisfied.

S. M. BOOTH vs. H. BIRCHARD.—The motion for a new trial in this case was argued last week. Messrs. Ryan and Yates in favor of the motion on the part of Birchard, and Mr. Noggle against it for Booth. On Friday Judge Doolittle gave his opinion in a clear and able manner, and denied the motion. Mr. Birchard's counsel then gave notice for a bill of exceptions so the case goes to the Supreme Court. That Judge Doolittle will be sustained we have no doubt.—Janesville Free Press

The Australians have an original way of getting a verdict from a 'hung' jury. The foreman comes into court and says the jury cannot agree unanimously, but that a majority have agreed, whereupon the counsel on both sides consent to take the opinion of the majority for a verdict.

A HAPPY TURN.—"For what do you wink at me, sir?" said a beautiful young lady, angrily, to a stranger, at a party an evening or two since.

"I beg your pardon, madam," replied the wit, "I winked as men do looking at the sun—your splendor dazzled my eyes."

SPEED'S LINE.

Reported for the Daily Free Democrat.

Arrival of the Prometheus.

NEW YORK, Dec 14.—The steamship Prometheus, before reported below, arrived to-day. Our files of California papers contain very little intelligence of importance. The mining news continues favorable, though the miners in some localities are greatly in want of water, and were anxiously expecting rain, of which less than the average quantity has fallen. Business at San Francisco, and at most places in the interior, was extremely depressed.

Advices from Oregon state that a numerous and powerful tribe, called Snakes, had commenced war upon the whites, and had slaughtered a whole train of emigrants.

The commercial intelligence from San Francisco represents affairs as about in the same condition as at our previous dates. It was not anticipated that there would be any change for the better until the commencement of the new year.

The advices from St. Juan represent the revolution in Nicaragua as still in progress, but we do not learn that either party has yet achieved any decided advantage. The British sloop of war Vesta and steam frigate Termagant were at Greytown.

San Francisco papers record the loss of the whale ship City of New Bedford, but those on hand furnish no particulars.

The U. S. steamship Mississippi had arrived at San Francisco, but her day of sailing for an Atlantic port had not been fixed.

State Temperance Convention.

LOUISVILLE, Dec 14.—The State Temperance Convention now in session here, is largely attended by delegates from all parts of the State, discussing the propriety of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieut. Gov.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, Dec 14.—The Star, of this city, says it is understood here that Mr. Buchanan will not return from England until next August.

The trustees of Selden, Withers & Co., publish a card advising holders of their notes not to sacrifice them, as every dollar will be paid.

BALTIMORE, Dec 16th.—The American Organ says that a seperate nomination will be made for Governor.

CINCINNATI, Dec 16th.—The trial of Allison is still progressing. The evidence is all in, and the counsel commenced summing up to-day. The case will probably go to the jury to-day.

QUEBEC, Dec 16th.—The Government recovered their sectional majority in the House of Parliament last night, and carried the amendment to the Feudal Tenure by a majority of 21.

This evening, in both Houses, a valedictory address was made to Lord Elgin.

CHARLESTON, Dec 16th.—There is a perfect panic in the cotton market here in consequence of the late failure.

RIVER HEAD, L. I., Dec 15th.—Nicholas Beheban was to-day executed for murder. He protested that he was innocent.

PROVIDENCE, Dec 14.—The liabilities of Messrs. Hill, Carpenter & Co., extensive wool dealers of this city, do not, we understand, exceed the sum of about $500,000.

BOSTON, Dec. 16th.—The failure of the Glendon Mill Company a large establishment, was announced to-day, after it was ascertained that on the Monday previous the Superintendent had left for parts unknown. On the Wednesday following, a letter was received from him stating that he was a defaulter in the sum of $250,000, and that it would be useless to pursue him as he would not be taken alive.

The Chinese have a proverb worth remembering, which reads thus. "Silence is a friend which never betrays."

CANADA ITEMS.—The snow is three ft deep about Lake Simcoe.

Wheat sells at Coburg at $1,50.

The steamer Ontario ashore east of Presquille, is a total wreck, many of the goods on board for Coburg and Peterboro merchants were saved by a schooner.

St. Andrew's day was celebrated at Coburg, says the Sun, with much eclat.

There are 32 railroads in progress or completed in the Provinces, including 1,183 miles completed and 2,023 miles in progress.

The Globe says the workmen on the line of the Brantford Railroad suffer large losses by the Joint Stock failure.

Loss of the Prop. Westmoreland, Capt. Clark.

We are indebted to Clinton Wright, Engineer of the above Propeller, for the following facts:

The propeller left Chicago on Saturday, the 2d of December. Stopped at Milwaukee and took on 500 barrels of flour, and then started for the North, expecting to get wood at Port Washington, but the sea was so heavy that they were obliged to return to Milwaukee for wood. On Wednesday morning the Propeller left Milwaukee again, and made the south point of the Manitou Island on Thursday at ten o'clock. The sea was so heavy and the ice had formed so much on her bows and sides, that she became water-logged, and her fires put out.

She then floated about for four hours after her fires were out, and made out to sea some fourteen miles, the passengers and crew remaining on board until she began to go down. The boats were launched, and the largest yawl was lost in launching. The passengers and crew filled the life-boat from the hurricane deck.— There were ten passengers on board, two of whom were ladies, and the crew consisted of twenty-three persons. After they got into the life-boat it was upset, and two passengers were drowned. Five of the passengers were lost and twelve of the crew. The two ladies were saved.

The survivors made the shore at Platte river Bay in Michigan, where they stopped about 40 hours. They then started for the Manitou Island in their boats, and were obliged to land some ten miles north of where they started.— The crew all went north except the first and second engineers and the second mate, who footed it on the beach to Manistee, where they took the Whirlwind and arrived at this place yesterday forenoon.

The names of the passengers were, as far as we could get them, as follows:

Miss Anna Taylor, Chicago; Miss Kate Avery, Boston, Mass.; Robert Raney, Wm. Saltonstall, Wm. Mann, and a Dutchman, name unknown—all saved.

Paul Pilky, first mate; Sam'l Adams, 2d do.; Clinton Wright, 1st eng'r; Mr. Breckenridge, 2d do.; Dan'l McIntosh, And McNeil, wheelsmen; Mr. Fletcher, Frank Williams, Hannibal Priest, and Solomon Simons, cooks; Andy Boyle, Patrick Daly, and Michael Kennedy, firemen. All saved.

The vessel was owned in Buffalo by Ellis, Petrie & Co., and was worth some $40,000.—Racine Advocate.

F. BROWN'S ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER.

THIS ESSENCE is a preparation of unusual excellence. In ordinary diarrhoea, incipient cholera, in short, in all cases of prostration of the digestive functions, it is of inestimable value. During the prevalence of epidemic cholera and summer complaints of children it is peculiarly efficacious; no family, individual or traveler should be without it, as it enables the system to resist the influence of incipient diseases which lurk in a changing climate.

CAUTION.—Be sure to get the genuine essence, which is prepared only by F. BROWN, at his Drug and Chemical Store, N. E. Corner of Fifth and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, and in Milwaukee by H.
